Traveling Man's Experience.
"In the summer of 1881 I had a very severe attack of cholera morbus. Two physicians worked over me from four a. m. to 6 p. m. without giving me any relief and then told me they did not expect me to live; that I had best telegraph for my family. Instead of doing so, I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and take no substitute. I took a double dose according to the directions and went to sleep after the second dose. At five o'clock the next morning I was called by my order and took a train for my next stopping point, a well man but feeling rather shaky from the severity of the attack," writes H. W. Holt was 35 when a professor at the university city. He is now 40. The report that the former Norman professor had done these things believed to be the acts of an insane man caused much comment in this city. His old acquaintances are unanimous in the opinion, however, that Holt was mentally all right when here.

LET MR. WILSON GET MAD FIRST, SAYS MARSHALL

VICE PRESIDENT MAKES ADDRESS ON WAR AND CITIZENSHIP AT HOT SPRINGS

Hot Springs, Ark., July 6.—"I am never going to fight until the President of the United States tells me that I ought to fight, and I pray to God that he will never tell me that I ought to fight. I owe something to the President which I will gladly pay. He's my chieftain. For myself, and I hope for you, in these trying times, let the President of the United States tell us when it is time to get mad. Be patient, and be forbearing, and you will understand that a son of Virginia at the head of the nation will never be false to tradition or found of cowardly blood."

This expression from Vice President Marshall before a large assembly Monday afternoon brought forth rounds of applause. He had come to Hot Springs to celebrate with the Moose lodge and a large audience gathered at the Oak-lawn pavilion to hear his address.

Mrs. Marshall accompanied him, and they will probably remain here ten days.

Mr. Marshall spoke on "The Dual Citizenship." He took an emphatic stand for a citizenship which would interest itself and assert itself in all affairs of life.

Speaking of the hyphenated citizen, Mr. Marshall took a stand against that man who holds up his hand and swears he will support the constitution when he knows that he owes an allegiance he will be called on to pay to another country. He said that after the war would be the time to re-enact laws which would be a safeguard against such a citizenship.
